

Clonakilty Library visual guides

Opening a library account

Supported by

SuperValu

Developed by

AS I AM .IE

This is Clonakilty
Library

Supported by

SuperValu

Developed by

A library is a place where I can go to read and borrow books.

Supported by

SuperValu

Developed by

If I want to borrow books I need to become a member. The librarian works in the library. They can help me open a membership account.

A yellow registration form for juveniles from Cork County Library. The form includes fields for Name, Address, Year of Birth, Internet Permission Granted (Yes/No), Name & Contact details of Responsible Adult, Responsible Adult's Name, Responsible Adult's Address, Email, Mobile Phone Number, and Phone Number. It also has a section for Office Use: Proof of Identity and Address furnished: Yes/No, and a PTO more on reverse arrow.A white registration form for adults from Cork County Library. The form includes fields for Name, Address, Email, and Mobile number. It also has a section for Office Use: Proof of Identity and Address furnished: Yes/No, and a PTO more on reverse arrow.

I will fill out a membership form. I will write information like my name and address on the form.

When I give the completed form to the librarian, they will give me a membership card.

Supported by

SuperValu

Developed by

I use this card every time I would like to borrow a book.

Now I can borrow books from the Library !