

Jeanius visual guides

My visit to Jeanius Clonakilty

Supported by

SuperValu

Developed by

AS I AM .IE

I am going to Jeanius today.

Supported by
SuperValu

Developed by
AS I AM .IE

The sign over the shop door is clearly marked. I will see items of clothing on display at the front of the red building. When I see these I know I have arrived.

Supported by
SuperValu

Developed by

Jeanius is a shop where you can buy clothes, shoes and accessories for women and for men. When I go inside, I will see lots of clothes hanging up in places around the shop, some at the front of the shop and some towards the back.

Supported by
SuperValu

Developed by
AS I AM .IE

Supported by

SuperValu

Developed by

AS I AM .IE

The shop is spacious and easy to get around. Sometimes there may be other people in the shop looking at the clothes too. It can be busy, and I will hear some background noise from the radio. I can ask if I would like this to be turned off

Supported by

SuperValu

Developed by

If I see something I like in the shop, I can try it on. There are two dressing rooms where the clothes can be tried on.

If the shop is busy I might need to wait my turn to use the dressing room.

Supported by

SuperValu

Developed by

I might decide I would like to buy something in the shop. To do this, I must go to the till to pay.

Supported by

SuperValu

Developed by

I might have to wait for a staff member to come to the till, so I can pay. The till beeps when it is being used.

Supported by
SuperValu

Developed by

The clothes that are bought are put in a bag.

When I have paid I say goodbye and leave the shop.